SSG Skillnation makes your working day digital and easy

Industry's transformation and increasing external demands

Europe's industry is undergoing extensive change. Increased automation, digitalisation and the integration of production and services are creating new challenges for both industrial sites and contracting companies. At the same time, requirements for permits, certificates and authorisations are becoming ever more stringent in order to carry out work tasks. To meet these demands and remain competitive, innovative solutions are needed.

The challenge: skills shortages

As requirements for safety, sustainability and digitalisation increase, it is becoming increasingly difficult to ensure that the right competence is in place at the right time. A lack of oversight of employees' competences can lead to serious consequences: increased safety risks, production stoppages and regulatory breaches. Together with industry, we have developed SSG Skillnation – a digital platform that gathers, verifies and manages competences, certificates and authorisations in one place. When competence is traceable, up to date and accessible, risks are reduced and administration is simplified.

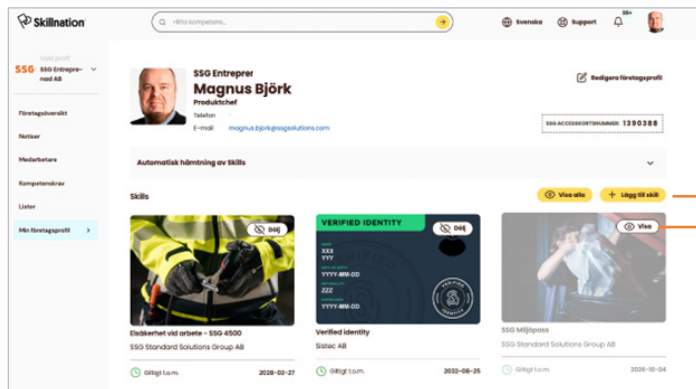

Say goodbye to spreadsheets!

Our "Competence requirements" feature lets you easily define which competences are required for different roles, teams or functions, and you can quickly see if anyone is missing the right competence. As a company grows, it can become harder and more time-consuming to keep track of the validity of all certificates and training courses – and that is where we have a solution: after training with one of our affiliated education partners, employees' profiles are updated automatically (of course, competences can also be added manually). You get a fast, efficient overview that also works on mobile.

A more efficient working day awaits

We are convinced that you will save time, energy and money by reducing your own administration around competences, and because the site will be able to confirm that your employees have all the competences required to start a job. This means you will be able to do more and help more people. Where possible, we will try to solve more of your competence-related challenges – please feel free to share your suggestions with us.

The administrator can help employees add manual skills, i.e. skills that cannot yet be populated automatically via connected education providers.

As an administrator, you control which of an employee's competences are visible or hidden by selecting "Show" for the competence to industrial sites.

1. Reduce the hassle of plastic cards:

Manual certificates create a significant administrative burden, especially when they are lost and need to be replaced quickly. Storing certificates and qualifications digitally simplifies management, verification and access.

2. Education results are updated automatically:

Reduce the administration and stress caused by out-of-date documentation. When your employees complete training courses and certifications (internally/externally), the results are sent directly to SSG Skillnation. This reduces administrative work for everyone and gives you an up-to-date status straight away.

3. Increase your company's visibility and reach within industry:

When you activate your contracting company in SSG Skillnation, you gain access to a company information page ("About the company") that becomes searchable for all industrial sites as well as industry organisations. On this page, you can promote your company, share links to your website, and provide contact details.

4. Do you have the competence in demand? Make it easy to find!

When

a site searches for a specific course, competence or your company name, they can also see that you have employees with the competence the site is looking for. For a site to be able to find the competences your employees have, you need to actively mark selected competences as "Shown". This gives you the opportunity to be identified and contacted not only by sites in Sweden, but also in other Nordic countries and across the EU as this feature begins to be used in SSG Skillnation.

5. Make compliance work easier:

With SSG Skillnation, you can avoid manual preparation ahead of inspections and audits – all data is gathered in one place. You get a clear overview of all employees, and with the "Competence requirements" functionality you can create competence profiles for different roles/teams and quickly see if anyone is missing a required course. Forget Excel competence lists and save a lot of time.

6. A standard with easily accessible support:

Our support team is ready to help and answer questions from all users. If you, as an administrator, need an introduction to the functionality, or if one of your employees needs help, we are—as always—just a phone call away.
